Marxism Represents the Nihilism of the Upper Class, Not the Rebellion of the Lower Class

LETTER TO A BOY IN COLLEGE

Dear Jack:

Your last letter informs me that some braying jackass has held a peace rally on your campus. Incantations have been held to conjure away the Vietnam war and the super-bombs with black magic. Really, Jack, we are living in a very dark, superstitious age when primitive magic rites of this kind are held. This sort of thing is a substitute for the realities which we as a nation choose to evade. I suggest that the best antidote for this sort of thing is to curl up with a copy of Clausewitz's "Vom Krieg." War has been with us from the beginning of recorded history. The first cities were very highly competitive in their struggle for existence. If you lived in one of the first human cities, and somebody else built a city nearby, your first thought was to destroy them. They were automatic enemies. If you did not destroy them, they might destroy you, or enslave you. Man is fundamentally a lazy slob, and perhaps something of a sadist in the bargain. It was discovered very early in the game that hard work could be avoided by taking captives and applying a leather whip vigorously to their backs and making THEM do the bitter, hard labor. Things have not changed as much as you think, Jack. Put two human power centers in juxtaposition to each other, and they become more or less automatic enemies. Out of this rivalry arises a type of operation called WAR.

Maintain Military Position

A nation which wants to stay in business must give constant thought to its military position. Unhappily, we in the United States have not done this during the last thirty years. Our military policy has been so utterly stupid that it might have been managed by idiot children. In fact, it has been managed by supposedly educated men, men who hold degrees which certify that they have attended institutions of higher learning. Let us see how such men have managed to make such an ungodly mess of our foreign affairs.

Make no mistake about it: We ARE in an ungodly mess. We have lost every worthwhile alliance we ever had. We have betrayed our friends and helped our enemies. We stand alone in the world and we stand in serious danger of destruction. Make no mistake about it, Jack: THE DANGER WE FACE IS A MILITARY DANGER. All manner of gasbags will visit your campus and tell you that "atomic war is unthinkable" since it could wipe out whole populations. Long ago, Jack, barbarians swooped down on the city of Bagdad. They looted and burned the city. They cut off the heads of every last living inhabitant. The job of killing the people was done by laborous hand work, rather than by atomic power, but the people whose heads were cut off were just as dead as if they had been killed by modern super-weapons. Why did the barbarians kill all the people of Bagdad? To get rid of them, of course. The ancient swordsman, his arm tired from chopping off so many heads, might well have welcomed a labor-saving device like the atomic bomb. Today's barbarian spirit welcomes the super-bombs as an ideal weapon of war. It fits in with the belief of some nihilists that the world is overcrowded, and that there should be a reduction of its population. Super-weapons are exactly what modern barbarism wants.

Unhappily, Jack, nihilism always disguises itself as idealism. It always pretends to be engaged in a conspiracy to confer some untold ecstasy upon the human race, where in fact it is engaged in a naked, barbaric power grab of the most vicious kind ever attempted in the whole history of man. Modern liberal-idealism is a great deal like the old-time religious hypocrite, who ran about with a Bible under his arm, and all the while coveted his neighbors' property, yearned for lechery with their wives, and secretly violated all the commandments to which he gave lip-service. Beware of the idealists, Jack. They are all phonies, to the last man. The REAL idealist is bound to look a bit "wicked" in these times,

Radical Students Aiding the Reds

National Education Program Letter

Communists in America are making frightening strides in mobilizing "student power" in the nation's high schools, colleges and universities for a violent revolutionary assault upon the United States and its institutions. The plan is to incite and organize millions of students into a para-military force joined to revolutionary Black Power — with which World Communism expects ultimately to overthrow the U.S. and gain dominion over all mankind.

This sounds fantastic, doesn't it?

Jerry Rubin, revolutionary leader, prominently active in Communist causes, who helped to direct the mammoth assault on the Pentagon last October, says: "The goal is a massive white revolutionary youth movement which, working in parallel cooperation with rebellions in Black communities, could seriously disrupt this country." Is this "goal" fantastic? I have before me a news dispatch from Santa Barbara, Calif. The headline says: "Students Discuss Ways to 'Destroy' Universities." A subhead says: "Revolution Proposed."

"Revolution" Spelled Out

The Santa Barbara News-Press had sent reporter, Tom O'Brien to cover a conference of college student leaders from throughout the nation, sponsored and financed by the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions which was set up with Ford Foundation money. After reading the News-Press report, I wrote the Center for a full text of the speeches and discussions..

Here is one of the student leaders speaking: "I'm going to say loudly and explicitly what I mean by revolution. What I mean by revolution is overthrowing the American government and American imperialism and installing some sort of decentralized power in this country. I'll tell you the steps that I think will be needed. First of all, starting up fifty Vietnams in Third World countries. (Note: The Communists explain "Third World" as the "oppressed" people of Asia, Africa, and Latin America).

To Aid "Black Power"

"This is going to come about (continued the speaker) by Black rebellions in our cities, joined by some white people. People in universities can do a number of things to help. They have access to money and they can give these people guns, which I think they should do. They can engage in acts of terrorism and sabotage outside the ghetto . . . "

The speaker was Devereaux Kennedy, president of the student body at Washington University, St. Louis.

A fact which should cause shivers to run up the spine of all concerned Americans is
